WILL ASK REPEAL OF LIGHT RULE

Business Men to Take Action Against New Ordinance.

FIRST MEETING ON WEDNESDAY

Commissioner Rudolph Says Many Merchants Have Approved the Regulation.

United protest against the Commistoners' regulation demanding lights on horse-drawn vehicles will be made at a mass meeting of business men at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce next Wednesday at 4 p. m. Plans for the meeting were arranged this morning at a conference of representatives of the coul, lumber, feed, ice, brewery, express and drayage interests who met in the office of John T. Newbold, president of the Merchant Transfer and Storage Company, 920 E street.

The companies represented were the Thomas W. Smith Lumber Company, Hoge & McDowell, millers; the J. Maury Dove Company, Johnson Brothers, coal companies; the George W. Knox Express Company; the Merchants' Transfer and Storage Company, and Littlefield, Alvord & Company. Will Try For Repeal.

At the meeting Wednesday ways and means of obtaining a repeal of the reg-ulations as they stand will be discussed. If the Commissioners are not re-sponsive to this appeal the matter, it is understood, will be taken into court. In reference to the question, Commissioner Rudolph said today that he has received assurances from a number of merchants that they are in favor of the "Delivery wagons already are supplied with lanterns, and compliance with the regusations will enforce no hardship," said the Commissioner. "The principal protestors, I understand, are the express and drayage men. The Commissioners have received no formal protests of any kind; but, on the other hand, have been assured by some of the merchants that if a mass meeting is called to protest against the regulations, they will appoint representatives to defend the ordinance."

Assurances of support in upholding the light regulations in upholding fend the ordinance.

Assurances of support in upholding the light regulation have been given Commissioner Rudolph by Joseph Saks, of the firm of Saks & Co. of the firm of Saks & Co. Mr. Saks said that personally he was in favor of the ordinance as being just WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 19.—In the view of Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate and officers and directors of the Harlan & Heilingsworth Corporation and the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, the steamer Northland, built for the latter company, and to be put into service between Norfolk and Washington, was launched here at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

It required but one attempt by Miss Elizabeth K. Fulton, the sponsor, to break a bottle of champagne over the bow of the vessel.

The ship slid gracefully into the water as the sponsor gave her Bon Voyage with "I christen thee Northiand" Following the launching the party was entertained with a luncheon by the officials of the Harlan and Hollingsworth Corporation. Miss Fulton was presented with a locket by Levi Woodbury.

Sistership of Southland.

The Northland is to be delivered March Lenext and will immediately be put into service between Washington and Norfolk, running alternately with the Southland. She is to be a sister ship of the Southland, possessing the flaring sides, without guards, which is a distinguishing characteristic of that boat. The Newport News, the present running mate of the Southland, will be laid off and held in reserve. Built along lines peculiarly adaptable to the service she will be called upon to perform, and improved with modern equipment of every kind, the Northland will be a veritable palace of the seas, in such event, the tariff revision crusade planned may receive a setback.

The officers who were elected yesterday at a meeting held in the National Hotel, have their headquarters in the Hotel, have their headquarters in the Bliss building, on B street northwest. In the seme block is located the headquarters of the officers headed by Mr. Hayes. Each set of officials claims the other is without authority. According to Mr. Hayes, his board was left in control as the result of a compremise reached in 1896. The question as to who were the regularly elected officers was up at that time, but the sickness of a juror prevented the trial coming to a close, with the result that the compromise was effected through the payment of a considerable sum of money. In the meantime, the Knights of Lator, under the administration of Mr. Hayes, has issued regularly a publication known as the Journal of the Knights of Labor. The membership of the organization is determined each month by per capita dues, and numbers, at present, about 120,096.
